AMANYARA

WHEELAND SETTLEMENT, TURKS AND CAICOS ISLANDS

Amanya is a secluded beachside resort situated on the northwest coast of Providenciales in the Turks and Caicos. Its name combines the Sanskrit-derived word for 'peace' with yara, the word for 'place' in the language of the Arawak Amerindians. Amanya borders Northwest Point Marine National Park, acclaimed for some of the world's best wall and reef diving. The property enjoys a contemporary layout and design, with an Aman Spa, Beach Club and Nature Discovery Centre. Thirty-six timber-shingled guest Pavilions and 20 Villas are tucked along the coast or situated slightly inland overlooking tranquil ponds.

POOL PAVILION

Surrounded by island vegetation, Amanyara's 65 square metre (700 square feet) Pool Pavilions feature private infinity-edge swimming pools and expansive timber sun decks for afternoons spent in restful seclusion. Engulfed by greenery, the pavilions have high-ceilings and large picture windows to bring the outside in, ensuring the king-sized bedrooms, living areas and en suite bathrooms are filled with light. Finished with natural wood and a neutral colour palette, the pavilions foster a relaxing atmosphere, with deep-soaking bathtubs encouraging a moment of calm.

OCEAN COVE PAVILION

At 65 square metres (700 square feet), Amanara's Ocean Cove Pavilions provide up to two guests with their own corner of the coastline to call home. Positioned high above a cove for privacy and seclusion, winding pathways lead down from the pavilions directly to the shoreline. Views of the Caribbean waters are best enjoyed from the comfort of the pavilion's expansive sun deck with two lounge chairs ideal for relaxing. Inside, through sliding doors, light fills the pavilion where a king-sized bed, living area and en suite bathroom with freestanding bathtub provide space to retreat after a day spent outdoors.
