RIHIVELI MALDIVES RESORT

SOUTH MALE ATOLL, MALDIVES

A classic barefoot private island in South Malé Atoll offering one of the Maldives' most traditional, nature-led stays, defined by simplicity, open lagoon living, and a strong sense of seclusion just 45 minutes by speedboat from Malé. Accommodation is in a small collection of beach bungalows with thatched roofs and wooden interiors, each set directly on the sand with private terraces, hammocks, and immediate access to the beach rather than overwater structures. The island is notable for its natural lagoon environment, including two small "virgin islands" within swimming or canoe distance, reinforcing its castaway character. Facilities are deliberately uncomplicated, centred around a lagoon-facing restaurant, beach bar, dive centre, and watersports hub, with snorkelling, sailing, and excursions forming the core experience. The atmosphere is relaxed, rustic, and deeply unpolished compared to modern resorts, with a strong emphasis on disconnecting. Service is friendly and informal. Best for couples and repeat Maldives travellers seeking an authentic, back-to-basics island stay with strong nature focus and a true barefoot rhythm.
