

THE HERMITAGE

Situated on the west coast of Antigua overlooking the Caribbean Sea, this stunning privately-owned property offers guests a romantic, tropical hideaway. Made-up of 30 spacious, freestanding Suites and flanked by over 140 acres of lush undeveloped land, guests of Hermitage Bay truly feel as if they have been transported to their own private island. This ultra-luxurious all-inclusive resort brings the clean lines and conveniences found with contemporary décor and design yet remains true to its Caribbean location by offering organic, locally sourced gastronomy, and utilising indigenous building materials, natural colour schemes, and non-invasive development techniques. The result: a natural, sophisticated retreat for those looking to unwind and become reacquainted with their environment and the one they are with. There is a true sense of arrival at Hermitage Bay from the moment guests enter the resort gate. Immediately the lush, local flora and fauna of the naturally landscaped grounds takes centre stage, bookended by a soaring hillside and white sandy beach. Both the cuisine and service are a crucial part of the experience at Hermitage Bay. The restaurant and bar are in front of the long sweeping beach.
